Letter from the Rector

Dear Friends,

What are your plans for the Summer? Are you looking forward to warmer weather or seeing friends and family? Midsummer is a good time to dream. I hope you'll have time to relax and let your mind wander.

Dreamers find themselves in excellent company. John Bunyan's book "Pilgrim's Progress" begins with him dreaming. He dreams of the adventure of following Jesus, living a Christian life whatever the difficulties.

Then there was Martin Luther King who dreamed that people could live together in equality and freedom. He knew that dream would not be achieved without hard work and sacrifices. Sadly, his dream has yet to come true; more hard work and sacrifice seems to be required.

The Bible is full of dreams. Joseph was warned in a dream that the infant Jesus was in danger. So the family fled to Egypt to keep him safe from Herod's murderous plans. And, this year, June begins with Pentecost, when Peter explained the disciples' surprising behaviour quoting the words of the prophet Joel,

"God says,

'I will pour out my Spirit on all people.

Your sons and daughters will prophesy,

Your young men will see visions,

Your old men will dream dreams."

At the coronation of her Majesty the Queen I'm sure nobody could have dreamed of all the changes that would take place during her long reign. In my wildest dreams I never expected to find myself ministering in this beautiful benefice, working with the gifted and prayerful people here.

I have a dream. It is of a Benefice of flourishing churches which shine as lights in the surrounding communities as they share the love of God for all people and for his creation.

Will you join me in praying and working for that dream to come true?
Love and prayers,

Katie

The Queen's Platinum Jubilee

This month we celebrate the Queen's Platinum Jubilee. She is the longest reigning monarch in British history. Up until recently she attended church every week and still did a full week's work at the age of 96!

It is her commitment to serving God and the nation which stands out in her life. Even before she became Queen she made a promise, which she has kept for over 75 years: 'I declare before you all that my whole life, whether it be long or short, shall be devoted to your service' (21st birthday broadcast, 21 April 1947).

What is the secret of the Queen's consistency of character and service? In 2002 she said this: "I know just how much I rely on my faith to guide me through the good times and the bad. Each day is a new beginning. I know that the only way to live my life is to try to do what is right, to take the long view, to give of my best in all that the day brings, and to put my trust in God." These are wise words from somebody who draws her strength from the Christian Faith and can inspire all of us who want to make our lives count!

The Queen has been an example of joyful, wise, and generous service on behalf of others all her life. Six months before her coronation she asked the nation and Commonwealth to "pray that God may give me wisdom and strength to carry out the solemn promises I shall be making, and that I may faithfully serve Him and you, all the days of my life." Paul urges us to pray for all in authority, "that we may live peaceful and quiet lives in all godliness and holiness." (1 Timothy 2:2).

A Prayer for Ukraine

God of peace and justice,
we pray for the people of Ukraine today.
We pray for peace and the laying down of weapons.
We pray for all those who fear for tomorrow,
that your Spirit of comfort would draw near to them.
We pray for those with power over war or peace,
for wisdom, discernment and compassion
to guide their decisions.
Above all, we pray for all your precious children, at risk and in fear, that you would hold and protect them.
We pray in the name of Jesus, the Prince of Peace.
Amen.

You are warmly welcomed to Coxwold Open Gardens, 2022!

Sunday 12 June, 1pm - 5pm

Once a year, residents of the delightful village of Coxwold fling open their gates to welcome visitors, greet friends old and new, and raise money for a good cause. Following two years with restrictions, this year, we would like to invite as many people as possible to come along and celebrate the charming hidden gardens of Coxwold.

Whether you have been many times before or are brand new, Coxwold Open Gardens is a day full of friendship, beauty and fun. There will be delicious homemade refreshments (including Pimms!) served at Coxwold Village Hall on the day and a variety of plants for sale at the historic Shandy Hall.

£5 will cover entry to all of the gardens, with all proceeds going to St Michael's Church, Coxwold. Buy tickets on the day from the car park behind Coxwold Village Hall.

We are recruiting friendly, enthusiastic volunteers to help out serving tea, coffee and Pimms. Car Parking and tombola duties are also up for grabs - get in touch to sign up for the day. Contact our organisers on 01347 868719 or email alegassicke@gmail.com

News from Shandy Hall

Coxwold's vicar in 1911

After more than 18 years we are still discovering new things at Shandy Hall. Lately we discovered a diary from 1911 by Ruth, an 11½ year old girl who lived with her family at the Vicarage next door to Shandy Hall. Here is her drawing of her father, who was Coxwold's vicar then.

The census of that year records the household: Rev Ernest Hedger (43) "Clerk in Holy Orders"; his wife Francis Elizabeth (45), and Ruth herself, who has a resident governess Jeanne McGhee (29). There were also two domestic servants, the cook Maud Barker (21), and Edith Annie Blakey (21) the housemaid. Two visitors called Harland are also recorded.

I have found a reference to a Miss Ruth Hedger in a newsletter article about Husthwaite Church in the 1950s, 1960s and early 1970s. This lady was described as a member of the Church choir. The same little girl grown older perhaps?

The Fauconberg Fund It might be helpful to know that people living in the parishes of Coxwold, Angram Grange, Newburgh, Oulston, Thornton on the Hill and Wass may be able to benefit from some financial assistance in respect of one off specific expenditure for a range of needs. It could be related to health, education, home schooling, university or simply just getting by in these difficult times. If it would be helpful for you or someone you are aware of to know more, please contact Chris Stratton 01347 868854 chstratton50@gmail.com

The Ukrainian Flag

We now fly the Ukrainian flag from the church tower flagpole. Its main purpose is to show a welcome to those Ukrainians now guests in our village. It is also there as a visible expression of support and admiration for the people of Ukraine as they face an enemy intent on the destruction of their country and its way of life. Having the only public flagpole in the village we are honoured to be able to make this gesture on behalf of the village as a whole.

The design of the flag represents the wide blue skies of Ukraine over fields full of wheat. Blue is also a symbol of calm and yellow of joy. We pray for a return of the calm and the joy of peace.

St Nicholas Survey

An enormous thank you to everyone who took the time to complete our survey.

You were generally very positive about our two monthly services of Holy Communion and Worship for All. The special services for Mothering Sunday, Easter, Harvest, St Nicholas and Christmas were also very popular and there were a number of thanks for the Remembrance service being an outdoor village community event (the weather was kind to us last year!).

Amongst the requests for other services, we received a number for Choral Evensong and "Songs of Praise," and a move away from the set readings to look at current topics. We had requests for Sunday services at 8am, 9am, 4.30pm and for a 6.30pm weekday service.

There was an interesting suggestion for a service of 15-20 minutes in length with a prayer, modern hymn, reflection and “Thought for the day.”

There were of course some things that you were not happy about and we are looking carefully at those. It is helpful to see where we don’t get it right.

All in all, you liked what we are doing, thanked us for asking your views and asked us to develop further. The result is that we will continue with our 2 regular services and add in some of the extra ones you have requested, which will be advertised in the Link and the Husthwaite Village Newsletter, and on our Facebook page.

Many thanks

Husthwaite Village Thanksgiving

On Sunday 10th July at 2.30pm we will be holding a Village Thanksgiving in Husthwaite Village Hall, with some live music, a few short prayers, a video and a display of photography, with of course tea and cake!

We will be reflecting on the last two years, remembering those we lost and giving thanks for all those who helped us in so many ways. If you wish to name those to be remembered and thanked then please contact me by phone (01347 868587) or email (liz.crawshaw@outlook.com) or just pop a note through my door at The Old School.

We want to include people’s memories of the pandemic. If you have photos or videos you would like to send us to include in the display, then please use the links above.

Many thanks and looking forward to seeing you.

*Creator God,
We give thanks
That science is continuing to increase our Understanding of the world we live upon
And the bodies we live within.*

*We pray that knowledge
Gained by research and technology
Might not simply be profit driven,
But kindle a growing desire for the common good of all,
That rich and poor alike might see the benefit,
And humankind become,
As in the time of Eden,
Good stewards of this earth.*

Amen.

All Creatures Great and Small - Pet Service at St Mary's, Carlton Husthwaite

There will be a Pet Service at 10.30am on Sunday, 3rd July at St Mary's.

Please bring your pets or if you don't have one,
bring your favourite cuddly toy.

I looked out the window and there stood the utterly glorious bullfinch, its breast feathers a deep orange from top to bottom and a fiery black cap. It looked around as if it owned our garden and as it flew away it was followed by its less flamboyant female partner. Who would not rejoice at such a revelation?

Well, me to begin with. I love its presence here but I know it may chip away at apple blossom and can, if not discouraged, destroy a whole season of fruit. I love the bullfinch but I love our fresh apples too. "Why don't you birds go and eat the hawthorn blossom in our hedges?" I mutter to myself. And then I go out and flap my hands at the apple trees until the birds fly off somewhere else.

And that's the trouble about growing food. We are in competition with wild living creatures which themselves are seeking food, most often in competition with other wild things. For example, a sparrowhawk will occasionally swoop down into our garden at 200-miles-an-hour and whisk a blue tit off our bird-feeder. He needs his lunch as much as we do. Or there are those pesky carrot flies, which are almost certainly the food of some yet smaller insect, but they are a menace for us. Nowadays I win our battle against carrot flies by using, as I told you a while back, Environmesh. But before that I remember a seed merchant advising that one particular anti-fly carrot seed, if planted alongside an ordinary one, will certainly produce at least one decent row. That was rubbish. Both rows were utterly destroyed.

How about slugs? The Royal Horticultural Society is now refusing to call slugs a pest because slugs are also part of a food chain. For instance, one dark evening a month or two ago the automatic light at the back of our house started to go wildly off and on. There was nobody out there, what could it be? Almost certainly a hedgehog which our neighbour John says is a regular visitor to his garden. And what do hedgehogs eat? Slugs of course.

So we gardeners need to take care. Human beings are in a position to be able to destroy completely each of the competitive lines of all living creatures. And that might lead creation in the end into a bleak, perhaps unworkable, place.

Tea with the Rector

An interview with The Revd Katie Franks,
Rector of the Benefice of Byland

Katie grew up in a Christian family. She was baptised as a baby and sang in her church choir. At the age of about fifteen Katie attended a big service for young people and at that time she became a Christian in her own right.

Whilst at university Katie felt a calling to be ordained. The clergyman who she discussed the calling with was not encouraging. It was at a time when the ordination of women was being discussed in the Church of England but had not actually happened. She now sees that she avoided a tough time for the women who were first ordained as priests in the Church of England.

Katie completed her degree and then became a teacher in Bedfordshire, teaching French to children aged between nine and thirteen years. She saw many changes in the education system during her teaching career. The children remained the same though and Katie enjoyed working with them.

Whilst Katie was teaching she was still involved in the church and took part in church groups.

Eventually, a moment came upon Katie when she stopped and thought that she should pursue her calling to be ordained, although she assumed someone would tell her she was wrong.

The pathway to becoming approved as a candidate to be trained as a priest is a long one. Katie was convinced that she would be turned back at some point, but thankfully she passed all the stages and was accepted for training.

Usually mature students training for the priesthood do not attend a full-time course but study part-time. Katie embarked on the Eastern Region Ministry course and in the first year she attended lectures in Cambridge, weekend residential courses and summer school. After the first year the opportunity then arose to become a full-time student and for the final two years Katie studied full-time. This entailed training as an ordinand in a parish for three days a week and two days a week studying. At that stage Katie was entitled to wear a cassock but no dog collar.

The course of study had no exams but was assessed by the vicar in whose parish Katie trained and in a series of interviews.

During Katie's curacy, she was permitted to complete her studies for a degree in Theology, Ministry and Mission. Although she has been awarded her degree, due to lockdown, she has not had a degree ceremony yet. She is looking forward to the ceremony in Durham during the summer.

Once Katie had completed her training she was ordained as a deacon in St Albans Cathedral. A year later she was ordained priest. The placement for a curacy is the result of discussion between the diocese and the individual in which they have trained. Once the curacy is completed the priest is then able to move to whichever area he or she wishes. She completed her curacy in the Benefice of Cople, Moggerhanger and Willington just outside Bedford.

Katie felt she was called to North Yorkshire by God. The profile of the post as Rector advertised by the Byland Benefice appeared just at the right time and it would not let go of her. She also jokes that she was glad to come to a Benefice with a shorter name!

Katie feels blessed that she is working in a place where a lot of people choose to go on holiday.

Katie's hopes for the Benefice include the flourishing of all the churches in it and through them the bringing of God's love to all the people living in the Benefice.

During lockdown Katie rediscovered the joys of reading. She did miss her trips to France, including visits to the regions near Biarritz and Carcassonne. She is planning to go back to France in the near future.

Crayke May Coffee Morning Another fantastic coffee morning which was held at the home of Maggie Warriner. Not only tea, coffee and delicious cakes but also a raffle, bric-a-brac stall, books, plants and donations which all raised the tremendous amount of £177. This amount is more than usually raised, and Maggie wishes to thank her helpers and the 30 plus visitors for their very generous support.

Our next coffee morning will be at the home of Gill and Norman Jackson, Oak Cottage, Church Hill, on Wednesday, 8th June, from 10.30 until 12 noon, when we look forward to seeing a good crowd again.

Family Service St Cuthbert's, Crayke

There will not be a Family Service in June but do join us as the Byland Churches meet together in Coxwold church on June 5th at 10.30am for the Queen's Jubilee.

Family Service will return on July 3rd as usual with refreshments available from 10.15am – do come!

The fitness class run by Tori has been such a great success that the sessions have been extended to Monday evening as well as Thursday evenings at 7.00pm and on Tuesday 10.00 am.

Mother and Toddlers continue on Monday mornings. Please contact Michelle for details.

Wednesday Pilmoor League cricket recommenced in May but the first match succumbed to typical British summer weather and was rained off. Hopefully the next matches will fare better on the 15th and the 29th. All are welcome to watch. The bar will be open and burgers and sausages rolls will be on sale prepared by our special Guest Chef Donald!

There will be a Club Social on June 18th for anyone wanting to meet to play darts, table football, pool or table tennis amongst other events or just chill and enjoy a chat!

The Queens Jubilee Weekend activities commence on the evening of Thursday 2nd and details of the programme are on the Crayke Facebook page. There is something happening for everyone so hopefully all the community can participate.

Psalm 23 Garden: design tips for a calm green space by Sarah Eberle Publisher Bible Society £6:50

A full-colour book showcasing the splendid Psalm 23 Garden, designed by Sarah Eberle for Bible Society's entry into last year's RHS Chelsea Flower Show. Sarah Eberle had previously won 17 gold medals at Chelsea and Hampton Court Flower Shows, and her Psalm 23 Garden won another gold medal as well as awards for Best Sanctuary Garden and Best Construction Award. Psalm 23 is a beloved psalm in the Bible, invoking images of rest and refreshment. The first two verses of Psalm 23 are:

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He makes me lie down in green pastures.
He leads me beside still waters.
He restores my soul.
